OCTOBER 2020 HIGHLIGHTS

Dr. Pimple Popper: Before The Pop

From Saturday 17 October at 20:00

Dr. Pimple Popper is back with more pops than ever! This time, Dr. Sandra Lee comes to the rescue of people who can't make it to her office in-person by taking virtual appointments. The series follows Dr. Lee as she reviews the cases of potential patients and offers help to people with some of the most extreme skin conditions to date. Watching footage of their ailments and virtually connecting with each potential patient, Dr. Lee determines if there's anything she can do to help them and tell the one thing they are desperate know...whether or not she will take them on as a patient and transform their skin.

90 Day Fiancé: The Other Way

From Tuesday 20 October at 20:00

They say that love has no boundaries. However, for the international couples in this compulsive series, their relationships are tested like never before as American men and women who fall in love with partners from distant lands then travel to their home countries to begin their married life abroad. Brittany, a 26-year-old rapper and model from Florida, is uprooting her comfortable lifestyle to be with her love in Amman, Jordan. Now Brittany prepares to move to Jordan permanently, but hasn't yet told anyone she is leaving for good - including her dad. And, still processing Sumit's shocking news, Jenny is back in the US and living out of a suitcase. But, having made the decision to return to India to be with Sumit, will she encounter more problems with his parents? From language barriers to cultural differences, will these couples' love be strong enough to withstand the challenges facing them as they embark on their new life together?

My 600-lb Life

From Friday 23 October at 20:00

Losing weight is a struggle for many, but for some it's a matter of life or death. This series follows more people weighing over 600lbs as they embark on an incredible weight-loss journey to try and transform their lives. Each episode follows the moving story a different individual as, under the supervision of straight-talking bariatric surgeon, Dr. Now, they undergo a dangerous gastric bypass surgery and life-altering dietary changes with hopes of losing hundreds of pounds. This season continues with 24-year-old Megan, who lives at home with her mum hopes Dr. Now can help her rebuild her independence. Ashley only 24 but is all alone. Her only sources of comfort are food and the relationships she has online, but not one of her profiles is real. She learns that Dr. Now isn't someone she can lie to like her online friends. And, single mum Leneatha is now so big that it's hard to move. If Dr. Now can't help her stop eating, losing her job could be the least of her worries.

Little People, Big World

From Wednesday 28 October at 21:00

America's favourite family of little people, the Roloffs, are in for some more big changes this season - and this time, it's the arrival of a new addition to the brood as Tori gives birth. But not everyone is celebrating the new baby; when Jackson is introduced to his new sibling, things don't go as well as expected. As Chris and Amy have to work together to help redecorate Amy's new house, Matt faces a far messier challenge: changing Jackson's diaper alone! There's never a dull moment with the Roloffs as they continue to navigate the ups and downs of living in an average-sized world.
